The Coterie was well represented at the County Federation meeting at Lawrence yesterday. About 300 ladies were present from various parts of the county, and the meeting was a most interesting and successful one.

John W. Green, sent to Jackson from this county for three and a half years in September, 1901, for criminal assault, has been paroled by Governor Bliss. Jeannette Bishop of Paw Paw and Thomas O. Tracey of Grand Rapids were married at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. S. E. Allen, Monday morning, Rev. Huffer officiating. After the ceremony a three course breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Tracey left for Grand Rapids. The True Northerner unites with other friends in best wishes.

Through the courtesy of the general manager of the Malto-Grapo company we have sampled the product of their vintage. Of course tastes may differ, and there can be no quarrel over that, but it strikes us the company is furnishing a healthful temperance beverage that will almost universally gratify the taste of those using it. There is a richness that makes it a very satisfying hot weather drink, and promises it a most ready welcome to the sick room and the hospital. The formula combining maltose with the juice of the grape, is the result of protracted labor on the part of experts, and certainly makes the beverage very superior in taste. Michigan Christian Advocate. The True Northerner can endorse all the good things the Advocate says concerning the quality of Malto-Grapo. Our people should be awake to the benefit the institution will be to the place, and we believe a good investment can be found in the company's stock.

Train Service Very Unsatisfactory.

The new timetable of the Pere Marquette, which went into effect this week, furnishes very unsatisfactory train service to Paw Paw. Under the new arrangement, all trains start from South Haven. The first train to arrive in Paw Paw is from South Haven at 8:17 a. m., and we do not get our morning mail until that train returns from Lawton at 8:40 a. m., which is a decided inconvenience to business people.

The 8:40 train west reaches Hartford at 9:35, and remains there until 11 o'clock, reaching South Haven at 11:50. As the train returning this way leaves South Haven at 12:55, it is impossible to go to that city and do any business and get back the same day.

The afternoon train to South Haven, leaving Paw Paw at 12:35, reaches Hartford at 1:30 and stays there until 3:15. It is impossible to get to South Haven, 33 miles away, in less than three to four hours.

The schedule is such that connection is not made with a single Michigan Central train at Lawton, either east or west, and as our people have no other road east or to local points west as far as New Buffalo, it is necessary to drive to Lawton to catch M. C. trains, and the hacks are again in active service between the two towns, carrying scores of passengers every day. The hack service will continue until the Pere Marquette furnishes service that will enable us to reach the outside world. The train which arrives from South Haven at 10:40 is held here for an hour—evidently with the purpose of failing to connect with the M. C. passenger east at Lawton, which connection could be made with no inconvenience to the P. M. at all. The people are justly incensed at such treatment, and the policy of studied lack of accommodation is short-sighted on the part of the road.

The Pere Marquette officials seem to forget that Paw Paw furnishes them more business than any other town on the South Haven-Lawton branch.

One freight train runs over the road each way daily, leaving Paw Paw for Lawton at about 3:30 p. m., and for South Haven at 4:50 p. m. This train also carries passengers.

An extra train is run between Hartford and South Haven to accommodate the resort travel.

FOURTH CAVALRY REUNION.

"The Boys" Have a Royal Time at Lake Cora.

Headquarters Co. "C" 4th Mich. Cav. Lake Cora, June 19-20, 1903.

The 27th annual reunion of Co. "C," 4th Mich. Cavalry, was held on the above dates on the beautiful grounds so kindly tendered us by the Lake Cora Summer Home association. About the usual number of comrades with their families were present. The first day was spent in visiting, telling war stories and boat riding on the beautiful lake. Of course the ladies (bless their dear hearts), were mindful of the inner man from a bountiful supply of their well-filled baskets. At 11:30 o'clock they spread a fine lunch of which all partook with a hearty relish. The afternoon was passed in the usual way. At about 5 p. m., another call to fall in for rations, which was responded to with right good will. As we looked up and down the tables so bountifully supplied by willing hearts and ready hands we were all glad that we were soldiers. At about 6 p. m., we repaired to the dance hall and held our business meeting. As our captain, R. M. Buck, had been called to attend the reunion across the dark river, Comrade E. A. Crane called the meeting to order. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Capt. S. M. Rawson; 1st lieut., Chas. Leathers; 2nd lieut., John Paige; quartermaster, treasurer and secretary, H. J. Loveland.

The following resolutions were adopted on the death of our late Capt. R. M. Buck:

WHEREAS it has pleased the Great Commander above to remove from our ranks our late comrade, Capt. R. M. Buck, to recruit the great army above to which we must all report at the last great roll call; therefore,

Resolved, that we, his comrades of Co. "C," 4th Mich. Cavalry, remember him as being ever ready to do his duty as a soldier and assist a needy comrade. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to his daughter and sympathize with her in her bereavement, and we beseech the Supreme Commander to look with mercy on her affliction and deal with her in such a way that her affliction may prove a blessing.

At 7 o'clock Lieut. D. Q. Curry called the comrades together for our campfire, which was opened by singing. "We are tenting to-night on the old camp ground." Comrade Curry gave a three minute talk full of patriotism and love for the old flag. Mr. Todd of the Peninsular favored us with a few timely remarks; although his tender years prevented his being a soldier he was ever their friend and gave us a hearty welcome to Lake Cora. E. A. Crane responded to his name with one of his interesting talks, spoke very feelingly on the death of Capt. Buck. Edson Woodman answered to his name with some of his pleasing reminiscences that carried us back to our soldier days. Mr. Todd had heard of so many claimants as the captors of Jeff. Davis, he asked for the facts. Comrade Bullard was called upon and in a very modest, interesting way told of the part he and Comrade Mun-ger took in his capture, which stands on the records at Washington, without question, that Murger and Bullard were the captors of Jeff. Davis. Other comrades gave their experiences of army life.

A very pleasing feature of the evening was the vocal and instrumental music. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Todd for courtesies and favors. The exercises were closed by singing "America." The rest of the night was passed in the old way, if anyone slept we forgave them. The next day was spent in visiting, fishing, sailing and rowing on beautiful Lake Cora. At about 3 p. m., we broke camp with a more fraternal feeling and comradeship as the years roll by.

IN JUSTICE COURT.

BEFORE JUSTICE ROWLAND.

People vs. Marion Robinson of Antwerp; assault and battery—wife beating. Respondent arraigned, plead guilty and given the alternative of $50 or 50 days. Took the days because he hadn't the dollars. Robinson went to Benzie county to avoid arrest, but Officer Chappell followed and brought him back.

People vs. Fred Marsh, another case of wife beating—very aggravated. The justice imposed the limit, 90 days, with the consoling remark that he was sorry he had not the power to make it six months.
